This blog www.science1984.com content is very good with a very high quality! There're very important subjects in this blog! It was a very hard work to do it! So, the diffusion of these relevant information and knowledge is essential for the world progress always, of course!! Many people around the world have visited and liked it, such as renowned professors, scientists and researchers!

- The human expectancy of life needs to increase so much faster more and more with very efficient researches and projects resulting in new vaccines, therapeutical substances, medical devices and drugs, for example!!

“Having big goals, many of which are said to be impossible, is very important because it can induce, in different ways, in different intensities in the world scientific society, the emergence of great scientific discoveries for all of humanity, significantly benefiting people's lives and causing the increase of human life expectancy significantly. Thus, diseases known today as being fatal and incurable, can become curable diseases, with the achievement of highly effective prevention, diagnosis, prognosis and treatment technologies”. Rodrigo Nunes Cal

- The human expectancy of life needs to increase so much faster more and more with very efficient researches and projects resulting in new vaccines, therapeutical substances, medical devices and drugs, for example!!
